3. (C) Recommendations: In the case of [redacted] medal, we suggest that you make the presentation to him at 1645 on 25 September in the [redacted] auditorium so that students of both the Operations Course and the Military Operations Training Course--both of which will be in progress at that time--can be present. This would be followed by a reception at the Officers' Club for [redacted] staff and spouses.

With respect to your observing some operations training, the Operations Management Seminar running which had been scheduled for 7 September - 6 October has been cancelled because the curriculum for this course is still under revision, and the first running is now scheduled for mid-November. As an alternative, we suggest that you may find it interesting to observe on 26, 27, or 28 September an Operations Course exercise in which the students attempt to make recruitments of one another, their performance being video-taped and subsequently critiqued by the class.

You might also consider dropping in on a lecture given by our senior military instructor, [redacted] to the MOTC, entitled "Introduction to Denied Area Communications."

25X1A

The Special Operations Training Course will, as previously noted, be underway during your visit, albeit with a class of only three students.

25X1A

25X1A

I suggest that upon your arrival [redacted] review with you the curricula for both these courses so that you can fix on specific arrangements.
